Headline:
Heavy showers easing by afternoon, leaving sunny spells.

Today:
Heavy rain and thunderstorms will push northwards across the region during the morning. These will gradually clear during the afternoon to leave plenty of sunny spells. Feeling warm in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Tonight:
A largely dry evening though the odd shower is possible in the south. Rather cloudy overnight with some clear spells and an isolated shower. Feeling humid. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Sunday:
After a rather cloudy start on Sunday morning, cloud will gradually break to leave warm sunny spells through the afternoon. The odd shower still possible. Maximum temperature 25 deg C (77 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Largely dry on Monday with the odd shower possible. Turning unsettled on Tuesday and Wednesday with outbreaks of rain and showers, these possibly thundery at times. Feeling cooler.
